

French Beaded Miniature Tulips

Bead Finish Samples

I made some sample leaves in green using a variety of finishes so you could see what they look like and figure out which finishes you want to play with. These are not all the finishes that exist in the world, just some ideas made using beads in my stash to get you started. Some brands use different names for the same finish. I find that finishes don't show their full glory in photos. The 2-cut beads at the bottom are a different shaped seed bead than the rest - they are cylindrical with extra facets cut into the sides for extra sparkle.
